Funds for the Lincoln Monument—Subscriptions from the Soldiers—Rascality at the Capital—Military Matters.

[Special Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.]

SPRINGFIELD, May 10, 1865.

Thomas S. Ridgeway of the First National Bank at Shawneetown, reports that the Union men, white and colored, of Gallatin county, are busy at work raising funds for the Lincoln National Monument and will send $500 in a few days.

Hon. Sharon Tyndale informs me that he has received letters from the Colonels of different regiments now in the field signifying the intention of the brave men of their commands to contribute liberally to the monument, and that the funds will be remitted as soon as the troops are paid off.

FROM INDIANAPOLIS.

The Conspirators—Great Excitement in the City—Bowles and Milligan Making a Confession.

[Special Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.]

INDIANAPOLIS, May 10.

The excitement over the forthcoming execution of Bowles, Milligan and Horsey, increases rather than diminishes as the time draws near. The friends of the condemned are arriving in the city as well as those drawn by curiosity, and the prison is visited by large numbers every day. Gen. Hovey has granted the prisoners all privileges possible, in order to allow them time to see their friends and make preparation for their death.

It is reported that Bowles and Milligan are becoming penitent in view of the terrible fate that awaits them, and are writing a full and complete confession of the hideous workings of the conspiracy with which they were connected. Many facts and names of prominent persons will be brought to light which have hitherto been shrouded in darkness and secrecy. Members of the Sons of Liberty in this city are trembling since the above rumor has gone abroad.

John C. Walker, Ex-State Agent, who is deeply implicated, is in Cuba [illegible] when he hears of the fall of his fellow conspirators.

FROM ST. PAUL.

The Indian Excitement on the Border—Complicity of British Settlers—Probable Escape of the Indians.

[Special Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.]

ST. PAUL, May 10, 1865.

The Indians killed a boy on Sunday evening and a man on Monday, near Mankato. Thus far although, according to reports, the pursuit has been overwhelmingly vigorous, not a single Indian is known to have been killed. The Indians told some trappers that they met, but did not kill, the English gave them ammunition, and told them to come down and do what they could. As long as the treaty prevents our pursuing the Indians across the lines, while at the same time British authorities refuse to surrender them, we shall be subjected to these annual raids.

FROM ST. LOUIS.

A Sudden Inquiry and a Prompt Answer—"Shoot Him Immediately"—Confession of a Steamboat Burner.

[Special Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.]

ST. LOUIS, May 10.

Gen. Sanborn telegraphed from Springfield to Gen. Dodge this morning, that his scouts had brought in an escaped rebel who was under death sentence at Brownsville, and asked what disposition should be made of him. Gen. Dodge telegraphed back, "Shoot him immediately," and doubtless the fellow, whose name is Brownlow, has before this received his deserts.

The alleged steamboat burner, Wm. V. Murphy, arrested lately at Memphis, is a rebel prisoner who escaped from this city while on parole last year. He made a partial confession and was allowed to go on parole on the promise of revealing more to implicate parties in St. Louis in the steamboat burning.

FROM DETROIT.

[Special Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.]

Brownlow on Harris—A Characteristic Document.

Pen Portrait in Vitriol of a Fugacious Rebel Governor.

The Legislature of Tennessee, now in session, having adopted the following proceedings in both houses with absolute unanimity; therefore, I, William G. Brownlow, Governor of Tennessee, do issue this my Proclamation, and offer a reward of FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS for the apprehension and delivery to me, at Nashville, of the fugitive Isham G. Harris:

[illegible]

This culprit Harris is about five feet ten inches high, weighs about 145 pounds, and is about fifty-five years of age. His complexion is sallow, his eyes are dark and penetrating—a perfect index to the heart of a traitor—with the scowl and frown of a demon resting upon his brow. [illegible]

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of the State, at the city of Nashville, this third day of May, 1865.

WILLIAM G. BROWNLOW.

By the Governor:

ANDREW J. FLETCHER, Secretary of State.

THURSDAY, MAY 11, 1865.

PEACE—PROSPERITY.

Peace is broadly dawning on our beloved country, and its lengthening, brightening rays are everywhere welcomed with thankful hearts. Peace! glad sound to a nation having hearts and homes. Cheerfully, joyfully will the sword and musket be exchanged for the pruning-hook and plow-handle. For, although our citizen soldiers have proved themselves most valiant sons of Mars when their country required their patriotic prowess, their choice among life's possibilities lies not within his blood stained domains. They do not live to fight, but fought to live, and preserve the life of the nation. All honor to the citizen soldiers who will return to the congenial occupation of cultivating the arts of peace. Those who have waited at home, patiently but anxiously, will find sweet relief and heartfelt joy in the return of fathers, husbands, friends or brothers, and if they come not back again, the thought that the battle-field has ceased to widow other hearts will solace the chastened souls of many mourners.

Peace has dawned, and beside the rich consolations it brings to hearts and homes, we believe it will mark the era of an unexampled period of general national prosperity.

The essentials of human prosperity are sound, earnest hearts, clear heads, strong hands, and plenty of paying work. The close of the war leaves us, as a nation, in the possession of all these requisites. We do not accord with the theory that the transition period from war to peace will be attended with serious disarrangement, in business circles, or result in checking the progress of industrial pursuits. Adaptation to circumstances is a peculiar characteristic of the American mind, and the immediate future will offer large fields for enterprise. No "pent up Utica" now "contracts our powers," the whole Union is ours—ours, to everybody alike, Abolitionists and all, to talk or to trade in. The barbaric ignorance of the South is to be dispelled by the schoolmaster; abandoned cotton fields are to be cultivated by the most enterprising and judicious planters. The next twelve months' profit on the production of cotton will pay the interest on the national debt. Northern enterprise and free labor will work miracles in developing the resources of our Southern States. Peace is the precursor, not of stagnation, but of an unexampled period of activity in every department of life and industry.

RETURNED TO ITS MIRE.

The organ of Jeff. Davis in Chicago is spoiling under its late assumed loyalty. Respectability torments it like the self-inflicted tortures of a Hindoo Fakir. It pines like a half reformed courtesan to return to its shame. It can no longer abuse Mr. Lincoln as a "smutty joker," or denounce him as an "uncouth backwoodsman," or vilify him as a "clownish despot" and "unprincipled demagogue." It can no longer recommend the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, as the contract has been taken and performed to the satisfaction of the contracting parties. It can no longer advise submission to the rebels, for they have submitted to us, nor oppose the war for its object is attained; nor abuse Johnson, for he has not yet done enough to constitute a fair target. For lack of any other resource it falls to its old trade of vilifying our soldiers. Of course it makes exceptions for which the soldiers who read it will be duly grateful. It merely says that "our recruits for the past two years have been largely" (not that they have been altogether) "taken, not merely from the worst classes in this country, but from the veriest slums of Europe." "A great many presumed and convicted criminals have been sold to the recruiting officers." "Many" (not all) "of them are scoundrels of the worst character."

"It is scarcely necessary to enumerate in details the methods by which a great many bad men have gotten into our armies. Suffice it that we have not a few of whom the following is a truthful description, and whose disposition is a matter that requires the utmost consideration:"

"Dirty, bearded, ragged, scores of them barefooted and barebacked, with sheen crawling ... about their feet and heads, limping, hobbling and cursing, they appeared the scabs, scavengers and scum of all creation; not a face or feature on which was not written 'thief,' 'murderer,' 'house-burner' and 'woman-ravisher!'"

"On the march they were miles away plundering, burning, ravishing, and during the battle they avoided its dangers and confined themselves to robbing the dead. They are not entitled, even under the cover of their patriotic blue, to anything but our abhorrence for their past acts, and of apprehension with reference to their future.

"To this class of totally depraved must be added many others, originally not bad men, who have become contaminated by association with the others.

"Already we are feeling the advanced waves of this inundation of rascality. In Chicago, it is not safe for any man to venture after dark a square from the well-lighted thoroughfares. Swarms of burglars have settled upon the city, and not a night passes without a half dozen or more houses being entered and plundered. Every night are there men garroted or knocked senseless with slung shots or killed in some way, for purposes of robbery. These things are so in Chicago, and they are the same in other large cities. It is not a limited deluge of scoundrelism that has flowed into Chicago, but it is part of a vast flood that is overflowing the whole land. It is bad enough to-day, but it will be worse to-morrow, and will continue to grow worse until the entire rascality contained in our armies is released and has settled in our midst.

"How to deal with this present and coming tide of immorality, is a question of moment."

Now that the Chicago Times has ceased to be pensioned by the city of Chicago, it would be glad to sell out to the county of Cook by inducing some of our returned soldiers to empty its establishment into Lake Michigan. This would entitle the sinking concern to bring a round bill for damages against the county and would make a smart financial transaction. In no other way is it possible to account for the low villainy of such an attack upon our soldiers, ninety-nine hundredths of whom are honest, respectable, plain working men, and every soul of whom is infinitely above the most polished Copperhead in the land.

OUR FRIENDS IN ENGLAND.

The Newcastle (England) Daily Chronicle taunts the aristocratic allies of the rebellion in that country in the following strain:

"Sir John Ramsden, the courtly M. P. for the West Riding, loudly proclaimed in the House of Commons, four years ago, and all the aristocratic Whigs and Tories in the country said Amen to his declaration, that the oft-quoted illustration of success of democratic government was destroyed—that the boasted republic of America was at an end. At an end, my good Sir John! The republic will come out of this contest stronger than ever it was, and radical orators for all time will point to the fact that a Mississippi Boatman has guided the ship of state successfully through all its troubles. It will be told in all coming years that the Northern 'Roundhead' proved himself more than a match for the Southern 'cavaliers'—that the New England freeholder and mechanic had beaten the 'chivalry' of the Carolinas and Virginia on their own chosen battlefield. That hard-working farmers like Grant and obscure storekeepers like Sherman proved more than a match for such 'born leaders' and blooded 'gentlemen' as Lee and Longstreet to own themselves mastered. Yes, depend upon it, the real reason why the ruling classes in this country have so hated the Northern people, and so belied the Northern leaders, was because they knew that in honest Abraham Lincoln's triumph, they might read the decline of their own power and influence."

When Professor Goldwin Smith was among us last fall, he assured his friends in America that with the issue of our contest the fate of the liberal party in England was indissolubly blended. If we succeeded their success would be assured; if we failed they too must fall, or at least consent to an indefinite postponement of their hopes. The sententious phrase is attributed to Thomas Carlyle: "Let America succeed, and England goes to democracy by express train." The course of public opinion in England from this time onward cannot fail to be in the direction most unfavorable to the privileged classes, who have been, from the beginning, our malignant enemies. It will constitute one of the most interesting phases in the progress of the human race. It is safe to say that ten men have been set to thinking about America who never bestowed a thought upon us before the rebellion began. With the progress of the war they have acquired a vast deal of information concerning our system of Government which they would never otherwise have gained. The ideas thus propagated will soon bear their fruit. In conquering the slaveholders' rebellion we have reinforced our friends in the Old World with a mighty republican army.

☞ "So far as we can see our judges, party spirit has been entirely extinguished by the assassination of President Lincoln."—N. Y. Tribune.

If the above statement applies to the party spirit of Copperheadism it only proves that the New York Tribune is near sighted and of weak judgment. If it applies to the party spirit of Republicans and of Union men, we are at a loss to know what class of them find their hatred of Northern treason soothed and mollified by the fact that a Copperhead cabal have murdered the President. It is well for Lincoln's murderers to put on mourning, and for Southern traitors, now that the Union is restored in spite of them, to thank God for what they failed to prevent. It is well perhaps on the strength of this death bed repentance for Greeley to shake hands with the Assassin's ... if he likes them; to apply his anti-punishment notions to the leaders, as he has from the first applied his peace notions to the war. NEW PUBLICATIONS.

THE NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW: No. CCVII. April, 1865. Boston: Ticknor & Fields. Chicago: John R. Walsh.

The North American is certainly entitled to a place among the most meritorious quarterlies published in the English language. It would be difficult to find two articles exhibiting higher cultivation or a more elevated tone, than those in the April number entitled "America and England" and "Reconstruction." The latter, written before the assassination of President Lincoln, is a very able argument for his proposed method of dealing with the conquered enemy, setting forth also the views which should govern in our treatment of the freedmen of the South, and the place which should be assigned them in the reconstructed society. It is held by the North American that the problem before us is to restore actual peace, and that anything consistent with national honor and good faith should be done to bring about a condition of actual peace—that mere vengeance is unbecoming a great nation—that it makes little difference what becomes of the "leaders of the rebellion," so that we supplant the miseries of war with the blessings of peace to the millions of both North and South and their posterity. It holds that slavery made the war and slavery must pay the damages. The following paragraphs set forth the arguments in favor of conferring the suffrage on the negro in a very lucid and happy manner:

"But will it be enough to make the freedmen landholders merely? Must we not make them voters also, that they may have that power of self-protection which no interference of government can so fully, cheaply, and surely exercise in their behalf? ... [illegible] ...

"Under the head of expediency comes also this other consideration,—that, unless made citizens, the emancipated blacks, reckoned as they must be in the basis of representation, and yet without power to modify the character of the representatives chosen, will throw so much power into the hands of ... [illegible] ...

The North American holds also that "any general confiscation of rebel property would be unthrifty housekeeping, for it is really levying upon our own estate and lessening our own resources. The people of the Southern States will be called upon to bear their part of the grievous burden of taxation which the war will leave upon our shoulders, and that is the direct as well as the most prudent way of making them contribute to our national solvency. All irregular modes of levying contributions, however just, and exactly just they can seldom be, leave discontent behind them, while a uniform system where every man knows what he is to pay, and why he is to pay it, tends to restore stability by the very evenness of its operation, by its making national interests familiar to all, and removing any sense of injustice."

The article on "America and England" discusses the causes of the aggravation existing in this country against that, very fully and ably, and concedes that there is serious danger of a war, and that such danger will continue until the root of bitterness springing out of the rebellion shall have been buried by the agency of time. The responsibility of the British government for the depredations of the Alabama is held to be at least involved in doubt, inasmuch as no paragraph of international law, founded upon any higher principle than that of "might makes right," can be produced to fix the guilt, or responsibility for negligence, upon the Ministers of the Crown. War itself, without the clearest grounds for its declaration, is deprecated as an unspeakable calamity to both countries, and useful only to the aristocracy of Great Britain as giving them an opportunity to strengthen their own privileges and postpone the reforms which the middle and lower classes are requiring from them. "To make 'Democrats' or 'Republicans' synonymous with enemies," says the review, "would add tremendous force to the aristocratic reaction now so strong in England. * * * There are other ways of avenging ourselves on our foreign enemies than by war. There is no occasion for so brutal and uncivilized a process. The suppression of the aristocratic and despotic rebellion of the slaveholders will in itself be the defeat of all our foreign enemies; and our triumph will be shared by our foreign friends, who are fighting the battle of liberal principles and equal rights in the Old World. Our success in the work we now have in hand will be an argument for free, popular government to which there can be no demurrer. There will be no need for us to engage in a crusade for the spread of democratic principles, or for the overthrow of despotisms. The example of a strong, rich, prosperous republic is a persistent revolutionary fact."

"The Philosophy of Herbert Spencer" furnishes the subject for an able and somewhat caustic examination of the works of this prolific and pretentious author. A certain degree of ingenuity is conceded to Mr. Spencer in his endeavor to overthrow the principles enforced by John Stuart Mill and Sir William Hamilton, and to bring philosophy to the standard of the exact sciences, but upon the whole he is held by the North American to be little better than an ambitious charlatan.

"Free Missouri" is the title of a brilliant and somewhat exhaustive paper on the physical resources of that State and the unhappy influence of slavery in retarding her progress in the great calling for which nature intended her. The growth of Missouri in all that constitutes a great and enlightened empire is promised from the day of her baptism in the waters of freedom.

"Voltaire's Residence in England," is the title of an interesting review of the recently published letters written by the great French man during his exile, tracing many of the thoughts which were so potential in ripening public opinion for the French Revolution, to Voltaire's sojourn in the midst of the free institutions of England. The despotic act of absolute power by which Voltaire was banished from the land of his birth and his love, was an act which brought a fearful retribution upon the next generation of despots in France, for, while the Revolution is not to be attributed to the labors of one man, it is universally admitted that the genius of Voltaire contributed much to hasten the dawning of that great day. The letters written from England also disclose the fact that Voltaire was a devout Catholic during the whole period of his residence in England. The contrast which he drew between the unsophisticated clergy of England where each man was the husband of one wife, and the bishops of France, where no one had a wife but each was the lover of many wives, is eminently Voltairish and amusing.

The remaining papers in this number of the North American, "Jacob Grimm," "Wordsworth," "Our Air Grape Culture," "Mr. Everett," and the critical notices, are marked by thorough ... and a high order of critical acumen. In the book notices Mr. Donald G. Mitchell's "Wet Days at Edgewood" receives a suitable mark of the contempt which every American scholar and patriot must entertain for that unmitigated ... and secessionist who calls himself Ik Marvel.

Dealing with the Traitors—Important Orders from Gen. Thomas and Gen. Washburn—Surrender of Guerillas.

[Special Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.]

CAIRO, May 10.

By the steamer Belle Memphis, just arrived from Memphis, we have the following important order, which indicates that the government has determined to punish traitors:

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT WESTERN TENNESSEE, MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 8. General Order, No. 53.

For the information of whom it may concern. The following dispatch from Maj. Gen. Thomas commanding the Department of the Cumberland, is published from the Headquarters of the Department of the Cumberland, Nashville, Tennessee, May 6, 1865:

"To Maj. Gen. C. C. Washburn, Memphis,

"You are authorized to administer the oath of allegiance to the rebel soldiers, but not to officers or citizens. It is now too late for them to reap the benefits of the amnesty proclamation, after having maintained an attitude of hostility of four years.

"By command of Maj. Gen. THOMAS.

(Signed) "W. D. WHIPPLE,
"Brig. Gen. and Chief of Staff."

Citizens who left our lines and sought refuge in the rebel domain and resisted all persuasion to return until the present moment, will not be allowed to return to Memphis at present.

Confederate officers returning to the district paroled from the armies of Lee, Johnston and Taylor, will not be allowed to wear the uniform or any badge reminding of their treason.

Men ... or those who have taken the amnesty oath will be required to divest themselves of rebel uniform as soon as they can procure other clothing, and they are given thirty days from the time of their coming into this district to do this.

By command of Maj. Gen. C. C. WASHBURN.
W. H. MORGAN, Major and A. A. G.

Yesterday a squad of fifty-two officers and eleven men belonging to the 5d Kentucky rebel cavalry, surrendered to Gen. Meredith. Six Confederate squads surrendered to Gen. Meredith on Saturday and took the amnesty oath.

From Vicksburg—More Concerning Dick Taylor's Surrender—The Process of Reconstruction—Significant Speech of a Rebel Officer.

[Special Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.]

CAIRO, May 10.

The Vicksburg Herald extra, of the 6th, gives additional official information confirmatory of the surrender of General Dick Taylor and command to General Canby, on the 4th. This makes almost a clean sweep of the rebel troops in arms east of the Mississippi River, there being no other important commands in that section to oppose the progress of Union troops.

It is also stated in the dispatch which was received through the rebel lines, that points in the interior will be immediately occupied as garrisons by our troops, in order to suppress jayhawkers and guerillas, preserve order and protect the people.

The extra says that General Dana will probably make his headquarters at Jackson, Miss., at a very early period.

Up to this morning about 4,000 rebel prisoners of war have been received at this city (Vicksburg) for delivery to the rebel bureau of exchange.

Colonel N. G. Watts, of the Confederate exchange bureau, this morning made the following speech to the Confederate prisoners on board:

Fellow Soldiers: I have received this morning official information of the surrender of Lieut. General Dick Taylor. I am afraid the Confederacy is no more. Jackson is no longer ours. I am now the only man that has authority to parole you. Those belonging to the Trans-Mississippi Department wishing to go there will be sent. Those of this Department can go to their homes, there to remain law abiding citizens to those laws under which you have fallen. You will remain at your homes until further orders.

The Sultana Calamity—Cruel Rumors Corrected—Search for the Dead—Interments—Names of the Rescuers.

[Special Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.]

CAIRO, April 10.

The Memphis papers have learned from gentlemen worthy of the utmost confidence in that State, and having the amplest means for judging, that they are satisfied that the painful suspicions current for several days past in relation to the rifling of the dead of the Sultana are untrue, and do injustice to the worthy persons who have been active in the humane work of rescuing the bodies of persons drowned. These informants, who have themselves lost friends and relatives by the disaster, are intelligent gentlemen, have searched, and been familiar with the search as performed by Government officials and other persons. They say that, in their opinion, there has been no rifling of the pockets of the dead. Pockets have only been cut open and examined to discover papers or other means of identification. Most of the dead, being returned prisoners, had no money or valuables. When they had rings on their fingers these could not, in some cases be taken off, and in such cases were buried with the dead. This seems an oversight, as they should have been kept, or at least recorded, with the hope of such record leading to their identification. The same informants say that in a few cases of this kind, the intention was to bury the dead bodies just as they were found.

Altogether about 170 bodies have been received. Of these about one in five have been found entirely naked, being those of persons who had stripped to swim ashore. Of these partially clothed nearly all were in their drawers and night clothes. Out of seventy-five picked up by the Pocahontas only one had a coat on him. The bodies of a man named Barnes and James Rutherfield, Co. A, 24 Illinois, of Oregon, Illinois, have been identified, and letters have been sent to the friends of the deceased. The steamers engaged in the search have been the Pocahontas, Little Giant and Jenny Hine. Some of the persons, who with small boats have saved the lives of many persons and recovered many dead bodies, are C. G. Thompson, Mr. Perett and Mr. Fogleman. Mr. Thompson saved the lives of about 175 persons. He is a poor man and is known to have given even his needful clothing to unfortunates. Mr. Perett and Mr. Togleman are poor men, who have been untiring in their humane efforts.

THE LATE REBELLION.

The Northward March of Sherman's Army—From Raleigh to Petersburg—Orderly March—Incidents by the Way—Spirit of the People, Etc.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The march of the homeward bound armies continues with unabated vigor. Meade's veteran columns had hardly made their grand march through the conquered capital of rebeldom before the camp-fires of Sherman's legions lighted up the banks of the James.

The advance of Meade's troops was yesterday in the vicinity of Louisa Court House, and is expected to encamp near Alexandria by Saturday night.

Sherman's four corps are expected to pass through Richmond to-day, and they will press the Army of the Potomac hard in the homeward march.

Sheridan's cavalry left Petersburg yesterday to move overland to Alexandria. The main part of the force will come to this vicinity, and probably undergo reorganization at once. One brigade of cavalry will be left at Lynchburg, another at Danville, and another at Petersburg, which will patrol the country, preserve order and punish guerillas and outlaws.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Mustering Out—The Assassination Trials.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—One year soldiers are to be returned to their respective capitals, and mustered out of service at once.

The witnesses in the assassination case are panic-stricken, fearing assassination in case they give their testimony. One of them yesterday made a verbal statement to the Secretary of War relative to the complicity of Thompson, Sanders and the rest, but positively refused to appear before the Court unless assured that his name, residence and testimony should be suppressed, and newspaper reporters be excluded from the Court during the examination. This was conceded him, but it is believed he has fled North in another panic.

Judges Arrested on Military Authority—Season Matters.

MILWAUKEE, May 10.—In compliance with an order from Gen. Curtis, commanding this Department, Gen. Davies, commanding at Madison, has taken Judges D. C. Bush and Harvey Briggs into custody, and holds them in confinement at Camp Randall until further orders. The charges against them are not known.

The prospects for grain in this State have never been so fine, at this time of the season, as they are now. The lumbering business on our rivers in the interior is quite heavy at present. An unusual number of rafts are moving down the Wisconsin.

FROM FLORIDA.

Mallory not Captured—His Whereabouts Unknown—News from Pensacola.

NEW YORK, May 9.—The gunboat Florida, Volunteer Lieutenant Commander William Budd, arrived at the Brooklyn Navy Yard yesterday morning at an early hour, from New Orleans, via Pensacola and Key West. She sailed from Pensacola on the 28th ult., at which time no knowledge of the surrender of ex-Secretary Mallory, of the late rebel navy, existed among either the navy or army officers of that place. It was rumored there that he had been seen in Pensacola, and had succeeded in effecting an exit from the country in an English schooner, but the report could not be traced to any reliable source. It was very certain that he had not given himself up to Captain Gibson, of the frigate Potomac, as that gentleman knew nothing of him further than the above rumor circulating in the town. It is more than likely that the ... Secretary is not far from Jeff. Davis ... [illegible] harbors and rivers, frequented by light blockade running sloops, is favorable to his escape, and we need not be surprised to learn at any moment that he has safely reached Havana or Nassau. The only hope of his capture must be placed in our blockaders of the East Gulf squadron. It will do no harm now to conjecture that Gen. Gillmore at an early moment dispatched an officer of his staff from Hilton Head to Key West, to notify the authorities of the situation of affairs after the evacuation of Richmond, and to suggest certain steps that would close all avenues of egress, which can be covered by such force as the navy and army have at their disposal.

FROM NEW YORK.

The Mexican Emigration Scheme Progressing.

NEW YORK, May 10.—The Herald says: "The Mexican emigration excitement increases. The office for enrollment is unable to accommodate the applicants, and two more offices are to be opened. There is a great rush of discharged army officers and soldiers. The Mexican General Ortega is highly delighted with the prospects. It is said the West has subscribed large sums of money to the enterprise, and that 25,000 men are to be raised there, to be commanded by General Rosecrans."

Board of Trade Convention.

BUFFALO, May 10.—All but three of the Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce in the loyal States, have indicated their approval of the call of a general convention of those organizations, at Detroit, on the 11th of July, by appointing delegates to attend the same. It will be one of the most numerously attended conventions of leading commercial men ever held in this country.

Painful Intelligence.

CINCINNATI, May 10.—The eminent tragedian and orator, James E. Murdoch, lies at the point of death at his home in Lebanon, Warren county, Ohio. His recovery is considered very doubtful.

Joseph Scheible, was drowned on the milldam at Waubeka, Ozaukee county, last week.

Joseph Stich, maddened by family troubles, committed suicide by shooting himself, at Manitowoc, a few days since.

The Appleton Motor says that W. M. Wright, of that place, has succeeded in expelling a tape worm from his stomach thirty-four feet long, from which he had been suffering three years. The way he did it was as follows: "Abstaining from all food except pumpkin seeds, for a period of thirty hours, at which time he took a very large dose of castor oil—two large table-spoonfuls—with some spirits of turpentine, and in a short time afterwards the worm was expelled."

The dwelling house at Appleton, formerly the residence of Hon. Perry H. Smith, of this city, and at the time occupied by the family of Rev. F. B. Doe, now with Grant's army as a delegate from the Christian Commission, was destroyed by fire last week.

The Grand Rapids Reporter estimates the damage to that section of the pinery, by loss of piers, booms, lumber, and effects of the ice-jam, at $500,000.

The Eau Claire Free Press notes the drowning of George Calkins and Alexander Erickson, while attempting to run Little Falls on the Chippewa, on Sunday. They were in a boat in company with three other men, and while going over the falls, the boat capsized, and the unfortunate men were unable to reach the shore.

Indiana.

The Evansville Journal of the 8th, says that a terrible tornado, attended by a fearful hail storm, passed over that part of the country between Evansville and Newberg, on Friday afternoon last. A large number of houses, barns and other like property were demolished. Charles Bell, who was in his barn when it was blown down, was badly mangled, and it is feared he will die. He is the only person known to be seriously injured. The house of Mrs. Phillips was blown to atoms, and although herself and five children were in the house at the time, not one of them received the slightest injury.

BACKING DOWN.

The Shelby County (Ind.) Reprobates on their Knees.

[From the Indianapolis Journal, 9th.]

The reprobates of Marietta, in Shelby county, who disgraced humankind by public rejoicings on hearing of the assassination of Mr. Lincoln, have been subjected to a state of mental discipline from fear of popular vengeance, that will be apt to do them some good. The leading rebels of the place procured a stringent oath of loyalty and allegiance to be prepared, and each of them subscribed to it, and were sworn by one of their number—Charles Cosby—who holds the commission of a Justice of the Peace. As Cosby had a delicacy in administering the oath to himself, he repaired to another officer and took the same obligation. The following is the oath taken by the "erring brethren:"

We, Uriah Amsden, Andrew J. Cochran and John Lee, of the county of Shelby and State of Indiana, swear that we shall without any mental reservation whatever, support the Constitution of the United States, and the Constitution of the State of Indiana; and that we will never, knowingly, willfully or wittingly, give any aid, support or assistance by any word, act, or deed, in any manner, directly or indirectly, to any enemy or enemies of the Government of the United States. And we further swear that we will support the Administration of the President of the United States, in all legal and lawful measures whatsoever, and that we will ever give him and the constituted authority under him, as well as the constituted authorities of the State of Indiana, our aid and assistance, in all legal and lawful measures, and means in the administration of the affairs of the State and National Government.

URIAH AMSDEN,
JOHN + LEE,

D. J. COCHRAN.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 28th day of April 1865.

CHARLES COSBY, [L. S.]
Justice of the Peace.

The average amount of common sense possessed by the persecuted Democrats of Marietta and its vicinity, may be estimated from the fact that they suffered themselves to be duped into placing about five hundred dollars in the hands of one Charles Conway, a roving emissary of the K. G. C.'s, with which to purchase pistols to defend themselves against the "Lincoln Despotism" of which we used to hear so much. Charles was a stranger, and he took the innocents in. He got their dollars, but they have never seen the pistols. Such a people are too stupid to be visited harshly for a folly that would be criminal in more intelligent communities, and the best punishment for them would be a competent schoolmaster, and enforced abstinence from rifled whisky.

The Democracy and the Murder of President Lincoln.

[From the Peoria Transcript.]

For over four years past the Democracy have been pursuing Mr. Lincoln with a virulence unparalleled in the history of the country. This was kept up from prior to his first election till the day of his assassination. Since that terrible event they have been striving to shift the responsibility of the act from their shoulders. The deed committed by the Assassin had been repeatedly advised by their speakers and writers, and so surely and certain as effect follows cause, the murder of Mr. Lincoln was the effect of Democratic teachings. To substantiate our position, we make a few extracts. During the last Presidential election the following call was issued for a Democratic meeting in McDonough county:

DEMOCRATS.

ONCE MORE TO THE BREACH!!

GRAND RALLY AT BUSHNELL,

Friday, November 4th, 1864.

Hon. L. W. Ross, Major S. P. Cummings, T. E. Morgan, and Jos. C. Thompson will address the people on the above occasion, and declare to them the whole truth of the matter.

White men of McDonough! who prize the Constitution of our fathers, who love the Union formed by their wisdom and compromise; brave men, who hate the rebellion of Abraham Lincoln, and are determined to destroy it; noble women who do not want their husbands and sons dragged to the valley of DEATH by a remorseless Tyrant, rally out to this meeting in your strength and numbers.

CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

This L. W. Ross is the Copperhead member of Congress from the 9th District, and has been for the success of the South from the beginning of the war. Fulton county, is his district, is the worst secesh hole in the State.

On the 28th of April, 1864, W. W. O'Brien of this city, made a speech at the Court House in Princeton, Bureau county, and repeated it substantially here on the 3d of August, as follows:

"Under the present Administration the Federal Union has become cruel, dark and damnable. Democrats have no heart to join in a war against their brethren, and they must organize to resist the tyranny of Lincoln. I say, don't let all the blood be shed on one side; don't stop to count the cost; assert your rights as men and if all hazards—peacefully if we can, but forcibly if we must, the abolition despot must be hurled from place and power."

This speech was endorsed by the Democratic party of this District at the time, doctrine, O'Brien being the chairman of their Central Committee. He also made other speeches in the same kind of talk.

Bitten by a Mad Dog.

[Lafayette (Ind.) Journal, 9th.]

Yesterday morning several persons between this place and the Junction, were bitten quite severely by a dog that had run mad, and was making his way directly for this place. A Mr. George Gilmore was the first person bitten, quite severely in the leg. The dog next attacked a little girl and bit her very badly. A lady was the next victim, or rather would have been had not her dress proved a protection, and saved her from the teeth of the dog. An Irishman in the employ of Sample & Co., whose name we failed to obtain, in endeavoring to defend the lady, was also attacked, and in turn was bitten both in hand and leg. We fear these cases will turn out fatally, though it is to be hoped otherwise. We are also informed that five children were bitten by a dog on Sunday afternoon, but our informant did not state in what part of the city it occurred, or the names of the unfortunate victims.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

MONETARY.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, May 10, 1865.

The leading topic in financial circles to-day was the extraordinary increase in the subscriptions to the Seven-Thirty Loan. The telegraphic dispatches received this morning report the new subscriptions yesterday as amounting to $[illegible], of which about $[illegible] were subscribed by the Second National Bank in this city. Last week the total subscriptions amounted to upwards of forty millions of dollars, and the prospect is that this sum will be greatly increased during the present week. In all parts of the United States there seems to be an eager desire to invest; and this desire is by no means confined to the wealthy classes, but it runs through all grades of society, from the highest to the lowest. This is the most satisfactory evidence that could possibly be adduced of the confidence which the people have in the strength of the Government. Search all history, and, not even in the days of Napoleon, will there be found a parallel to such unlimited devotion and trust in human government as is now being displayed by the American people.

It was reported on the street that the subscriptions to-day up to noon, amounted to upwards of $8,000,000.

Should these heavy subscriptions to the Government loan continue—and the probabilities are that they will increase—the Treasury Department will speedily be enabled to clear off every dollar of its floating indebtedness; and with the increase in the internal revenue, and the curtailment in the expenses of the army and navy, the road seems open to a material reduction in the volume of the currency. It is this, more than anything else, which is bringing gold down at the rate of 2@3 per cent per day. At present there is but a very limited actual demand for gold, and the speculative inquiry is rapidly dying out. The resources of this country, too, are so rapidly developed, and our people are so quick in their perceptions, that there is no longer any safety in holding gold at anything like former quotations. There is not the shadow of a doubt in the minds of the people concerning the ability of the Government to redeem every dollar of its paper, principal and interest; and the premium on gold is now being sustained only by the redundancy of the circulating medium. How much that premium ought to be, with the currency as it is, or when reduced, is the question to be settled, and on which hangs the fate of all values.

TO-DAY there was quite a panic in both monetary and commercial circles, in consequence of the further decline in gold. At the opening in New York, it was sold at 133½, but it gradually weakened, and fell in the evening as low as 129. This caused a panic among the holders of produce, and under the anxiety to sell, Flour fell 30c ₩ brl, Wheat 4@5c ₩ bushel, corn 2@3c ₩ bushel, oats 2c ₩ bushel, and rye 7@8c ₩ bushel. Highwines were nominally 2@3c lower than the Government tax, and Provisions were unsettled at any thing like the prices generally asked.

There was an active demand for currency at the various discount houses to-day, but owing to the unsettled state of the markets, the bankers were less willing to take risks, and the market was closer than for some time past. There is no change however in the rate of discount, which remains at 10 per cent per annum. On the street the brokers were lending at 1½@2 per cent per month. The decline in produce during the past few days has forced quite a large amount of wheat and oats on the market, which were held by bankers and others.

There was a report on the street to-day of the suspension of a Produce house, but we understand that it will probably be only temporary. Thus far our merchants have stood up nobly against the storm.

The supply of Eastern Exchange, to-day, was very light, and, under an active demand, the market ruled very firm, at par buying and ¼ prem. selling. Large amounts of currency are being daily sent by Express to New York to meet bankers' drafts. There is very little Exchange being made at present.

Here the market was weak and lower. At the first session of the Stock Board, cash gold was sold at 131½@131, and at the second session, at 130½. In the evening, however, sales were made as low as 128. On the streets the brokers paid 130 at the opening, but towards the close the price fell to 128@129. Silver is dull and lower, with more activity, and sales at 118@120. Canada currency was sold on the street at 130.

Gold opened in New York to-day at 133¾, and closed at 131¾. The following are the quotations telegraphed to James Boyd, gold-broker:

10:30 a. m.	133¾	2 p. m.	132
11:00 a. m.	133¾	3 p. m.	132
11:15 a. m.	133¼	4 p. m.	131
11:30 a. m.	132½	4:30 p. m.	131
12:30 p. m.	132½	4:45 p. m.	131

In the evening dispatches from Gallagher's Board reported gold at the opening at 130½, and at the close, 129.

Government Bonds are in fair request and firm at the following quotations:

	Buying.	Selling.
Five-Twenties	105½	106
Ten-Forties	96	97

Seven-thirty Bonds are selling rapidly at par and interest.

Cook County Scrip to-day was quiet at 94@94½.

—The Boston Board of Trade has extended invitations to the various commercial bodies in the West to visit Boston as the guests of the Board, and from the 7th to the 9th of June next has been the time named for the representatives of the various Western cities to meet there and partake of the hospitality tendered. The object of this meeting of the merchants of the West, with those of the East, is to have a thorough interchange of views with regard to railroad transportation, and the opening up of new routes from the West to New England, so as to facilitate and promote commercial relations and develop the resources of the country. It is expected that delegations will be sent from St. Louis, Chicago, Milwaukee, Detroit, Cincinnati, and in fact from every commercial city in the West. Arrangements have been made by the Boston Board of Trade to entertain their Western guests in the most sumptuous manner. There will be an excursion down the Boston Harbor, a trip to Lawrence, Lowell, and other New England manufacturing points; a visit to the public institutions of the city, and a grand banquet in old Faneuil Hall.

As the time is not far distant, we trust the Chicago Board of Trade will make arrangements at an early day to send a good delegation—one that will fairly and truly represent Northwestern interests. These commercial gatherings are well calculated to promote trade and commerce, and the matter should be carefully considered. We must send "representative men," and not those only who are willing to go because they will have "a good time," and because they have nothing else to do.

—The Philadelphia Press states that Mr. Harrington, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, is about to proceed to Europe, and while absent will negotiate a foreign loan for five hundred million dollars, principal and interest payable abroad. Under these circumstances it is expected that a four-per-cent loan may be placed at about eighty per cent, which point it is expected the five-twenties will exceed. Per contra, it is stated by telegraph that no foreign loan will be offered. The latter is more likely to be correct.

—A case of interest to gold brokers was decided in the Supreme Court of New York on Friday. Peyton Landon, a broker, sued H. T. Moore, a customer, for loss on a short sale of twenty thousand dollars, gold, made at 149 and 148 and covered at 173. The action was brought to recover the difference and interest. The defendant moved for a non-suit, on the ground that the plaintiff had closed the contract without notice, and also that the legal tender act recognized no price for gold. The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff for the amount claimed.

—The following are the comparative earnings of the Michigan Southern Railroad for the month of April:

1865	$366,345
1864	327,304
Increase	$39,041

—The total value of exports from Boston for the week ending May 5, including specie, was $366,567, against $484,540 for the corresponding week in 1864.

—The total value of imports at Boston for the week ending May 5, was $764,601, against $481,247 during corresponding week in 1864. Total since Jan. 1, $7,374,369.

—Oil stocks in Pittsburgh are very dull. Sales on the 8th were at the following quotations: McAboy, $1.00; Banner, $1.20; Ritchie, $1.00; McAboy, 95c.

—The receipts from taxation, during the present year, will probably average $1,000,000 per day.

—The supply of cents at the Mint is now in excess of the demand.

—Belcher's Refinery Company at St. Louis, a few days since, paid the Collector of the port $51,000 in gold, the duty on two cargoes of sugar from Cuba. This is among the first direct importations via New Orleans since the rebellion broke out.

—The Trustees of the New York Produce Exchange Company have chosen the following Board of officers for the ensuing year: Francis M. French, President; William H. Newman, Vice President; Edward Cromwell, Treasurer; Stephen W. Carey, Secretary; Stephen D. Harrison, John S. Williams, George D. Cragin, R. J. Randolph, Peter Rice. STANDING COMMITTEES: Finance Committee—Edward Cromwell, Stephen W. Carey, John S. Williams. Building Committee—Stephen D. Harrison, George D. Cragin, Peter Rice, R. J. Randolph, William H. Newman. Supply Committee—Edward Cromwell. Conference Committee—Stephen D. Harrison, Edward Cromwell, John S. Williams.

—Money in New York is reported in some quarters as more active, but there is still more offered to stock houses than can be used at 5@6 per cent. A good deal is done at 4½ per cent. Prime commercial bills, 6@7 per cent. Sterling bills are held higher, without business. Leading houses ask 110 for 60 day bills. Francs, 5.11¼@5.12½.

—The next quarterly meeting of the National Iron and Steel Association will be held in Chicago on the 24th of May.

—The cash balance in the hands of the Assistant Treasurer in Boston, at the close of business April 29, was $3,647,426.81—showing a decrease of $[illegible], as compared with the close of the previous week.

—The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that in the case of life tenant and remainderman, the legacy taxes are due, and payable as soon as the executor commences to hand over the rents and profits to the life tenant.

—Capitalists and bankers in Boston complain of the great influx of greenbacks of small denominations, which are accumulating upon their hands to an annoying extent. This is in consequence of the numerous individual subscriptions to the Seven-Thirty Loan, many of which are of classes for quite small amounts.

—The stock of cotton in England, on the 1st of April last, was 390,000 bales, being equal to the stock held on the 1st of January, 1861, since which time it has been comparatively light and variable, the supply at the beginning of 1863 having been 434,000 bales; at the same time in 1863, 330,000 bales, and at the same time in 1864, 372,000 bales. The London Economist, in a recent article, while admitting that the present stock is larger than it has been for some years, and that large shipments are on their way, argues that considerable anxiety hangs over the future supply, and that the prospects of the British cotton trade are ... —The following is the history of the rise and progress of the New York Evening Exchange, commonly known as "Gallagher's."

The Evening Exchange is one of the institutions peculiar to this city and to these times. It might be supposed that the desire to trade in stocks could be gratified in the day time by the two general stock exchanges and two petroleum boards, each holding two meetings daily, and the operations on the street, which are so large as to constitute a large portion of the stock market; but it appears that these are not sufficient, so our brokers and dealers in stocks and gold hold a regular meeting in the evening, and thereby continue the excitement which the day had promoted until it is time for them to sleep.

It is but fair to say that some of our most influential houses refuse to have anything to do with this "night work," believing that the days are long enough for transactions, without adding two or three hours on the evening.

At first this exchange consisted of a few gentlemen who, without any organization, used to meet in the hall of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, and buy and sell gold and a few leading stocks. After a time the number increased so much as to interfere with the business of the hotel, and the proprietors were obliged to post a notice prohibiting the use of their hall for stock operations. An enterprising genius thereupon hired a room in an adjoining basement, and invited all who wished to trade in stocks to come there and pay twenty-five cents for admission. The arrangement was superseded by the establishment of an exchange under the superintendence of Messrs. Gallagher, which was in turn given up when the "Merchants and Banking Club" was organized, which was designed to furnish the usual conveniences of a club house and facilities for stock operations in the same building. This last arrangement failed to work well; the quiet and comforts of club life were sadly interfered with by the stock transactions, and on the other hand the club arrangements impaired the freedom of action and of voice which were usual at the exchange; and so the dealers have lately left the club and taken a room in Twenty-fourth street, in the rear of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, where they have a regular call and speculate two or three hours every evening.

SUBSCRIPTION AGENCY 7-30 LOAN.

SECOND NATIONAL BANK OF CHICAGO.

This Bank will receive subscriptions to the new 7-30 U. S. Notes and pay the interest from date of subscription to the 15th of June.

These notes are issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000—bear interest at the rate of 7 3-10 per cent per annum, and are payable three years from 15th of June, 1865, or may be converted at the option of the holder, at maturity, into six per cent 5-20 gold bearing bonds.

By act of Congress they are free from State and Municipal taxation, and having this advantage are the most desirable investment now in the market.

We allow the usual rate of commission to sub agents and can furnish the notes immediately on receipt of orders free of charge.

The continued decline in gold to-day caused a panic in the general markets, and almost every article in the produce list suffered a material decline in price. The news from the East indicated a similar state of affairs there, and the result is we have to report an uneasy feeling among holders generally.

The Provision market was perfectly stagnant, and prices, though lower, are almost entirely nominal. There was little or no inquiry for product, and but little effort was made to sell—holders generally keeping their stocks off the market. Mess Pork was dull and about $1.00 lower, with a sale of only 90 brls at $26.00, closing with sellers at that price, and a limited demand at $24.00. Prime Mess Pork was entirely neglected and prices are nominal. Sellers were holding at $22.00. Sweet pickled Hams were quiet, with sales of 115 trcs in two lots at 16@17c. Bulk Meats were neglected and nominal. There was nothing done in Lard, and the market was entirely nominal at 18@18½c.

Highwines were offered freely at $2.05, but there was no demand and the market was wholly neglected. Buyers were offering $1.95@1.98.

Owing to the further decline in gold, and the very unfavorable news from New York, the inquiry for Flour was very limited, and the market was dull and heavy at a decline of fully 30c on the ruling prices of yesterday. We note sales of 250 brls at $6.95@9.25 for White Winter, $7.75 for Red Winter, $6.00 for Spring extras, and $5.00 for Spring Supers. Rye Flour sold to the extent of 150 brls at $5.00.

The Wheat market was active at a decline of fully 3@4c on the closing prices of yesterday. On the sidewalk the market opened at $1.10 for No. 1 Spring, but at the opening of 'Change the highest figure that could be had was $1.08½. Subsequently the market fell to $1.05, and rallied to $1.06½, but after the receipt of the New York dispatches, a drooping tendency set in, and the market rapidly sold down to $1.03½, at which it closed quiet. There was a moderate inquiry for No. 2 Spring at 98@$1.01. We note sales of 230,000 bushels at $1.03½@1.10 for No. 1 Spring, and 98@$1.01 for No. 2—closing rather easy at $1.03½ for No. 1. There was nothing doing in Winter and Extra Spring. The demand was almost entirely to cover shorts.

In sympathy with other breadstuffs, the market for Corn was 3c lower on No. 1, and 2@3c on No. 2 and Rejected—closing very heavy at the decline. About 51,000 bu changed hands at 62@63c for No. 1, 58@59c for No. 2, and 51@52 for Rejected in store, and 64c for yellow f. o. b. At the close there were no buyers at over 60@61 for No. 1 in store.

There was a heavy business done in Oats at a decline of 1@2c on the closing prices of yesterday. The market opened at 31c for No. 1 in store, but under an active demand by short sellers, an advance of 1@2c was obtained. After the receipt of the New York dispatches, a depreciation of 1@2c was effected, and the market closed quiet. The transactions footed up 248,000 bu at 31@32c for No. 1 and 29@31c for No. 2—closing with buyers of No. 1 at 31c, and sellers at 31½c. There was no shipping inquiry.

Rye was dull, and 7@8c lower, with light sales of No. 1 in store at 58c.

Barley was dull and lower, with light sales of ... [illegible]

Timothy Seed quiet and 25c lower, with sales at $1.75@3.25. Clover Seed was dull, with light sales at $9.50—a decline. Flax Seed was more active and steady, with sales at $1.75@1.90. Millet Seed sold at $1.35.

The further decline in gold has weakened the Grocery market and we reduce our quotations 1c on Sugar and 1c on Coffee. Trade is fair. The following dispatch was received at the Grocers' Board, from New York:

NEW YORK, May 10—3 p. m.

Markets quiet. Good Grocery Sugars 12c; Hard Refined, 18½c; White, A's 17½. Coffee and Tea firm. Gold, 132½.

The decline in gold has not affected the market for Dry Goods any further than to influence some to hold off. Dispatches from New York received this morning report a firm market there. Trade is fair, and there is no change in quotations since our detailed report of yesterday.

Lake Freights were quiet at the decline noted yesterday, with engagements to Buffalo at 7c for Corn and 5c for Oats.

The following dispatches were read on 'Change to-day:

BUFFALO, May 10—11:30 a. m.

Receipts, 20,000 bu wheat, 28,000 bu corn. Rather more inquiry for wheat; sales of No. 1 at $1.31. Sales of 28,000 bu corn at 80c. Nothing doing in oats. Freights dull at 13c for wheat, 11c for corn, and 7c for oats.

NEW YORK, May 10—12 m.

Flour nominally 15c lower. Wheat unsettled and nominal. Corn neglected. Oats quiet at 61c. Pork lower; dull at $25.37½. Lard easier; heavy at 18½. Whisky quiet and unchanged. Gold, 131½.

NEW YORK, May 10—2 p. m.

Flour 20@25c lower—$[illegible]. Wheat inactive, nominally 10@15c lower. Corn unsaleable, nominally lower. Oats quiet at 60@61c. Pork heavy at $25.75. Lard dull and heavy. Whisky steady at $2.08@2.10. Gold 31.

There was quite a discrepancy between private dispatches received from New York, and the late Board of Trade one. The former quoted oats at 45@47c, unsettled. Wheat 5@10c lower. Corn unsalable, and Flour 35@45c lower.

LATER.

There was a large attendance at the Board of Trade Evening Exchange, and owing to the further decline in gold, the markets were panicky. Wheat declined 1@1½c, and Oats about ½c. The sales on call were:

GOLD.

After call Wheat sold to considerable extent at $1.05¼@1.05¾—closing at the upper figure. Oats closed with buyers at 31½c and sellers at 31¾c. Corn was offered at 60c for No. 1 without buyers.

Gold opened at Gallagher's at 8:30 at 130¾, and closed at 9:30 at 129.

CHICAGO DRY GOODS MARKET.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, May 10.

The Dry Goods market is fairly active. The decline in gold does not seem to have any other effect on the market than to cause a slight falling off in the demand. Advices received this morning from New York quote the market there quite firm, with a scarcity of domestics. Here there are no changes and we quote:

Prints—Merrimac, 27c; Cocheco, 26c; Garners, 27c; Spragues, 26c; Dunnells, 24½c; Duchess, B, 21c; Manchester, 26c.

Ginghams—Clinton, 31c; Glasgow, 30c; Roanoke 25c.

Brown Sheetings—Standards, 40½c; Medford, 40c; Agawam F, 31c; Swift River, 28c; Pepperell, R, 28c; Dwight A, 32½c.

Bleached Goods—New York Mills, 42½c; Wamsutta, 40; Bates, 37½c; Lonsdale, 35c; Canoe, 15c.

Denims—Amoskeag, 55c; Union, 50c; Haymaker's, 50c; Blue Hill, 37½c.

Striped Shirting—Amoskeag, 55c; York, 50c; Uncasville, 38@39½c.

Delaines—All 29@30c.

CHICAGO CATTLE MARKET.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, May 10.

BEEF CATTLE—The receipts of beeves to-day amount, according to the Board of Trade report, to 993, and the shipments to 286. The entered sales at the various yards foot up 993, at a range of $3.50 for common to $7.75 for good.

The market opened to-day with a fair supply of stock on hand and of good quality. But the same attitude of buyers and sellers which we referred to yesterday continued to-day, and transactions were limited in consequence. Government contractors have almost entirely withdrawn from the market, and are loud in their intention not to operate largely until prices so decline that a small margin may be realized on their contracts. They allege that at the very low figure at which their contracts were taken, the present prices leave them no profits. However this may be, it seems to be the general opinion among stock men, if we except a few of those whose interest it is to keep the prices well up, that live stock is too high and that it cannot be maintained. Influenced by this feeling, prudent buyers will not enter into large transactions. Indeed, it has been a long time since such caution and prudence has distinguished this market as has prevailed for the past ten days.

The demand for stock cattle is fair, but not quite so active as during the past week, and prices are not so firm.

We noticed a few Louisville men in the market to-day, but they are generally inactive, and waiting for the bottom to be reached.

We quote the market to-day as weak, but with no quotable decline. The following are the ruling prices:

Choice beeves	Nominal.
Fair to prime	6.75@7.00
Common to medium	5.50@6.00
Stock cattle	3.50@4.50
Inferior	3.00@4.50

The following are the reported transactions to-day:

CATTLE SALES TO-DAY.

SHERMAN YARDS.

Hull & Reavesold Hughes 12 head common State steers, averaging 1,055 lbs, at $4.80.

Bentley sold Shaffer 14 head butchers' steers averaging 1,104 lbs, at $6.50.

King sold Hayman & Co 14 head good government steers, averaging 1,199 lbs, at $[illegible].

[illegible]

HOGS—The receipts of Swine for the past twenty-four hours, according to the Board of Trade report, amount to 940 head, and no shipments.

The entered sales are 3,650, at a range of $7.90 for fair, to $8.35 for choice.

The market has been very active, and prices are firm, though without any perceptible advance.

The great inquiry has been for Baltimore and Philadelphia hogs of smooth quality, and averaging from 180 to 225 lbs. For such the ruling price was $8.25. The activity at the various yards nearly exhausted the supply, and the market closed with but few unsold.

The following are the reported sales:

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

The sale of the first series of $300,000,000 of the 7-30 Loan was completed on the 31st of March, 1865. The sale of the second series of Three Hundred Millions, payable three years from the 15th day of June, 1865, was begun on the 1st of April. In the short space of thirty days, over One Hundred Millions of this series have been sold—leaving this day less than Two Hundred Millions to be disposed of. The interest is payable semi-annually in currency on the 15th of December and 15th of June by Coupons attached to each note, which are readily cashed anywhere. It amounts to

One cent per day on a	$50 note.
Two cents " " "	$100 "
Ten " " "	$500 "
20 " " "	$1000 "
$1 " " "	$5000 "

MORE AND MORE DESIRABLE.

The rebellion is suppressed, and the Government has already adopted measures to reduce expenditures as rapidly as possible to a peace footing, thus withdrawing from market as borrower and purchaser.

This is the ONLY LOAN IN MARKET now offered by the Government, and constitutes the GREAT POPULAR LOAN OF THE PEOPLE.

The Seven-Thirty Notes are convertible on their maturity, at the option of the holder, into

U. S. 5-20 Six per cent GOLD-BEARING BONDS,

Which are always at a premium.

FREE FROM TAXATION.

The 7-30 Notes cannot be taxed by Towns, Cities, Counties or States, and the interest is not taxed unless on a surplus of the owner's income exceeding six hundred dollars a year. This fact increases their value from one to three per cent. per annum, according to the rate levied on other property.

SUBSCRIBE QUICKLY.

Less than $200,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now on the market. This amount, at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within two months, when the Notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans. It now seems probable that no considerable amount beyond the present series will be offered to the public.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the Notes for which they receive orders.

5. Resolved, That these resolutions shall be in force and take effect from and after their passage.

FUNERAL OF THE PRESIDENT. Ald. Holden submitted the following resolutions, which were passed:

WHEREAS, Through the influence of many prominent citizens of Illinois the remains of Abraham Lincoln, late President of the United States, were brought through the city of Chicago and laid in state at the Court House; and

WHEREAS, The Chief Marshal and his aids, with other committees having the matter under their charge, deserve the thanks of this body representing the interests of said city for the faithful manner in which they performed their respective duties; Therefore be it

Resolved, That the thanks of this Council are tendered to Chief Marshal R. M. Hough and his assistants for the faithful, prompt and efficient manner in which they discharged the duties imposed upon them.

Resolved, That the thanks of this Council are tendered to Governor Oglesby, Gen. I. N. Haynie, U. S. Marshal, D. L. Phillips, and other gentlemen, who labored so efficiently to give this city an opportunity to show proper respect to the remains of our late President.

Resolved, That the thanks of this Council are tendered to the committee appointed by this Council, of which Lt. Gov. Wm. Bross was Chairman, and Charles L. Wilson Secretary, for the able manner in which they performed their duty.

Resolved, That the thanks of this Council be tendered to Gen. Sweet and other officers for the prompt and efficient aid rendered by furnishing the necessary guards which, together with the able Police force of our city, kept perfect order.

Resolved, That the thanks of this Council be and are hereby tendered to J. M. Van Osdel, G. M. Kimbark, G. P. A. Healy, Wm. W. Boyington and Leonard W. Volk, Committee on Decorations, especially for the artistic manner displayed in the draping and arranging the funeral arch at Park Place, the decorations [illegible] at the Court House, and to Coan & Ten Broeck for their beautifully arranged funeral car.

Resolved, That the thanks of this Council are tendered to Messrs. Ald. Shimp offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the transparency which was carried by the Turn Gemeinde at the funeral of our late President Abraham Lincoln with the inscription, "Truth, Justice and Mercy," be presented to them, as they are a loyal body of our citizens, who will ever esteem it, and the Turners are well worthy of it.

CITY CHARTER. Ald. Gage offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to take into consideration the revision of the various amendments of the City Charter and the ordinances of the Common Council.

His Honor the Mayor appointed Ald. Gage, Knickerbocker and Wicker to act as such committee.

Ald. Bond submitted the following order, which was passed:

Ordered, That the Comptroller be, and he is hereby directed to procure the publication, in a convenient form, of a sufficient number of the amendments to the City Charter, passed at the last session of the Legislature, for the use of the Common Council and the city officers, as soon as possible.

JOB PRINTING. Ald. Wicker offered a resolution relative to the job printing, and asked its passage.

Ald. Talcott moved to amend by excluding the [illegible]

LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

Illinois Soldiers in the Grant General Hospital, New York.

NEW YORK, May 8.

Editors Chicago Tribune:

The American Tract Society, national in character and the extent of its operations, as well as in name, has during the war felt called upon to do all it could within its proper sphere for the soldiers of the Union. It has sent its publications to almost, if not quite every regiment in the service, and has employed army missionaries in every large department of the army but one. Of the American Messenger, in English and German, 24,000 copies have gone forth monthly to the soldiers, the greater part gratuitously; of the soldiers' hymn book nearly 800,000 copies in all, and of other publications very large amounts.

From the headquarters in this city correspondence has been had with at least eighty Illinois regiments, and to more than thirty of these monthly packages of publications have been sent direct for some time. Large numbers of Western men have passed through this city during the past few months, and there were at one time 1,450 recruits for the 14th and 15th Illinois regiments in our battery barracks. Irish reading matter has been supplied by the Society's agent to those thus waiting in our harbor. Our hospitals, which are now full, are chiefly occupied by Western men from Sherman's army and the Southern prisons. As soon as able, they will be transferred to their own States or discharged from the service.

In a recent visit to Grant United States General Hospital, I have seen many Illinois soldiers, who were getting on well under the excellent management of Dr. Taurston and his able corps of assistants. The hospital is finely located at the entrance of the sound, about fifteen miles east of this city, and the patients are favored with good air and food, and pleasant scenery. Among those there belonging to Illinois regiments are the following, many of whom arrived on the 17th and 18th of April:

ILLINOIS SOLDIERS.

Stomach Bitters.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

READ AND REFLECT.

Make sure of HEALTH. "But HOW?" you ask.
We answer, 'tis an easy task.
Strengthen the STOMACH, and sustain
The NERVES, the servants of the brain.
The LIVER keep in active play
And regulate them day to day.
Each organ aid, on Nature's plan,
Brace and refresh the INNER MAN,
And like a watch, that's kept in order
By constant care, with railroad time,
The system's tone and strength renew
And thereby cheer the spirits, too.
"HOW?" you inquire, "can this be done?
This Victory o'er Disease be won?"
"HOSTETTER'S BITTERS," we reply,
"Is HEALTH'S SUPREME PROTECTION—TRY!"

As a means of regenerating the disordered and enfeebled system, regulating every function of the internal organs, reviving the depressed spirits, invigorating the constitution and prolonging life, no [illegible] preparation, either of the past or present time, has been so completely and universally successful as Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters.

Against the vapors [illegible] prepare,
That fever taint the heavy air,
Drink not unmixed the water found
In prairies, woods, or marshy ground.
If sedentary toil you ply,
Nature you must assist—or die;
For when debarred from exercise,
For artificial aid she cries.
Medicine's grand purpose and intent
Is threatened evil to prevent;
And if you'd be relieved or spared
From ills that crush the unprepared,
Hostetter's Bitters are—for note,
They are the SUREST ANTIDOTE.

To set at defiance the miasma of unhealthy [illegible], the poison of unhealthy water, the effluvia of crowded workrooms and factories, and the baneful influence of sedentary employments, it is only necessary to be forearmed with Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters.

Dyspepsia's pangs that rack and grind
The body and depress the mind;
Agues, that, as they go or come,
Make life a constant martyrdom;
Colics and dysenteric pains,
'Neath which the strong man's vigor wanes;
Bilious complaints, those tedious ills,
Ne'er conquered yet by drastic pills;
Dread diarrhea, that cannot be
Cured by destructive mercury;
Slow Constitutional decay
That brings death nearer day by day;
Nervous prostration, mental gloom—
Heralds of madness or the tomb;
For these—though mineral nostrums fail—
Means of relief at last we hail,
HOSTETTER'S BITTERS—medicine sure,
Not to prevent alone, but cure.

In dyspepsia, fever and ague, bilious complaints, constitutional and nervous debility, constipation, sickness, spasms, [illegible] in all complaints peculiar to Women, proceeding from [illegible] or the body, [illegible] one great remedy [illegible] Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters.

To wanderers o'er the sea of land,
From Polar shore to Tropic strand;
To [illegible] lone, in regions new,
And dwellers in great cities, too;
To soldiers in camp, fort or field,
Who need against disease a shield;
To miners, California bound,
And tillers of wet, marshy ground;
To feeble wives of fragile mould,
To young and middle-aged and old;
To those in health who would enjoy
Heaven's best gifts without alloy;
To all the strengthless, weak and pale,
Who droop, yet know not what they ail—
Hostetter's Bitters we present
As Health's most potent element.

If there is any value in public opinion, or any [illegible] in medical testimony, the very best and safest Tonic, Corrective and Alterative now before the world is Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters.

THE CITY.

No Postponement of the Sanitary Fair.—The Executive Committee have decided that there shall be no postponement of the Sanitary Fair, but that it shall open as proposed, Tuesday, May 30th. Exchange papers please copy.

Let No One Forget the concert this evening at the First Baptist Church.

From Lake Superior.—The propeller Union, of Spencer's Line, commanded by Captain Davis, arrived yesterday afternoon from Lake Superior—being the first boat of the season from that region.

Tickets for the Concert this evening are for sale at all our music and book stores, at the Commission Rooms, No. 11 Methodist Church block, and at the door this evening.

Romeo and Juliet—will be better played this evening, at Col. Wood's, than it has ever been in Chicago. The great glass engine Monitor is in full operation every day in the large saloon of the Museum, with beautiful glass blowing of all descriptions.

On Monday Next.—Bryan Hall will no doubt be crowded on the event of the reappearance of Cooper & Ogden's Minstrels on Monday evening next. [illegible]

[illegible]

Fire Department—Removal of Headquarters, etc.—Yesterday morning Chief Fire Marshal U. P. Harris, removed his headquarters to the second story of the Central Police Station, on the southeast corner of Washington and LaSalle streets.

The Fire Alarm and Police Telegraph will be in full working order, it is expected, about the middle of the coming week. The necessary connections between the street boxes and the machinery at the several stations, are being completed as rapidly as possible.

For the Sanitary Fair.—We learn that the celebrated mammoth ox "General Grant" started from Albany, N. Y., on Tuesday, for this city—having been donated to the Sanitary Fair by his owners. This animal has already been sold and exhibited enough times to coin over $10,000 for the Sanitary Commission.

Mrs. Livermore and Mrs. Hoge yesterday received a telegraph dispatch from Mr. Leonard W. Volk, from Boston, saying that Miss Hosmer's celebrated statue of "Zenobia" is on its way to Chicago, to be exhibited here for the benefit of the Sanitary Fair.

General J. E. Smith.—Major General John E. Smith is in this city, just arrived from North Carolina. He has been appointed to succeed Major General C. C. Washburn in command of the District of Memphis. [illegible]

THE NORTHWESTERN FAIR.

Necessity of Large Receipts now that the War is Over, and the Soldiers Returning Home.

Extracts from an Address Delivered by Rev. W. H. Ryder, D. D., on His Return from Richmond.

The following is a portion of an Address delivered in St. Paul's Church, Chicago, on Sunday evening, April 30, and repeated last Sunday evening, by Rev. W. H. Ryder, D. D., the Pastor, who had just returned from a visit to Richmond, and a general inspection of the Sanitary work in that section. As showing the imperative necessity for earnest, continuous effort in the work of providing for our brave soldiers, notwithstanding the fact that the war is closed, it merits the most careful perusal.

There are two features in the history of the army of the Union that will stand out prominently in the annals of war. The one is the smallness of our army at the commencement of the contest, and the suddenness with which it was increased to an immense force. [illegible]

I might also speak of the efforts making to establish permanent homes for disabled soldiers and seamen, under the name of Sanitaria. [illegible]

LOCAL MATTERS.

Read the Advertisement of Great Gift sale at A. A. Kelly's, to be found on our first page. Many valuable prizes have been distributed in the last few days, and many are left for fortunate purchasers. my11-w363-1t

Boy Lost.—A Dumb Boy, 14 years of age, left Geneva, Ill., for Chicago, on the 9 o'clock train Monday morning, and has not been heard of since. Any information concerning his whereabouts will be thankfully received, and a liberal reward paid by Dr. S. Whitting, 164 South Clark street, Chicago. ma11w353-1t

A Fragrant Breath and Pearly Teeth are easily attained, and those who fail to avail themselves of the means should not complain when accused of gross neglect. The Sozodont will speedily eradicate the cause of a foul breath, beautifying and preserving the teeth to the oldest age. Sold by all druggists.

Gift Concert.—We advertise in to-day's columns a Gift Concert for May 21, which we take pleasure in recommending to our readers, as being one well worthy their confidence and patronage as there are many very valuable gifts, and it will be fairly and honorably conducted. See advertisement in amusement column. my11w384-1t

A Grand Success.—The "Great Gift Sale" opened in this city by C. M. Dunn & Co., at 178 South Clark street, has become a household word all over the land. [illegible]

Use "Dr. Blank's Eruptive Ointment," and Scratch no More.—Everybody afflicted with diseases of the skin, such as Itch, Tetter, Ringworm, &c., should give this remedy a trial. [illegible]

FOR THE HAIR.

DELIGHT'S

SPANISH LUSTRAL.

THE WORLD'S FAVORITE.

The only sure article ever offered to the American Public to make the Hair grow on Bald Heads. For rendering the Hair soft and glossy it is unsurpassed. Having been analyzed by prominent physicians, it has been pronounced far superior to any Hair Restorative ever produced.
